After we learn about President Obama's 950 Executive Orders in four years we find out that he has issued new business regulations at the rate of 62 per day. These regulations affect both small and medium size businesses. So, now we know that our President is against Business. Are we Doomed?

Now our President who told the Russian President that once he was re-elected he would be more flexible on defense matters, is going to meet with the current President Valdamir Putin. In addition, our President wants to raise taxses and no spending cuts and he is supportive of his left wing supporters.

President Nixon resigned over Watergate, where no one was killed, but President Obama is off to Nevada campaigning at the time he learns about the attack in Bengehazi, Libya where four people were killed, including our Ambassador to our country. Our Administration has consistantly misled the American people.

Reports that I am reading every day suggest a coverup by the Administration, and then there is the General Petrarus debacle. It has been suggested by high ranking officials and military personnel that this news was delayed until after the election even though the investigation has been ongoing for six months, or earlier.

This biographer, Ms Broadwell, is now giving speeches about what went on in Bengehazi. The only place she could have obtained that information was from General Petratus. Now, it gets worse, she has classified information according to recent resources. And now we learn she had top clearance, as a West Point Graduate by the army. AND NOW OUR US Commander is Offhand

I leave you with a point to ponder: Do you think there may have been security leaks because of this relationship between General Petratus and Ms. Broadwell.
