While I am tired of the way our Federal Government is being run, Government is a necessary evil. I read the other day that our Capital, Washington, D. C. does not mean the District of Columbia, but really means the District of Corruption.

Here are some of the things that our Government is doing that irritates me.

Release of Illegal Immigrants by ICE that are Felons, and there are no records as to where they will be released.

Our President is violating the law. His argument that Homeland Security cannot afford to keep these felons locked up is without foundation as Homeland Security has over $9 Billion in excess funds from last year's budget.

According to Judge Janine on Fox News, these criminals are either felons or have committed three or more misdemeanors and they include sex offenders and drug cartel members.

Now, how about taking knives on airplanes. I saw a cartoon recently where the woman with her own water container was detained, while the guy with the knife was allowed to board the plane.
