I thought that today we would have a little fun from the historical perspective as I have developed some quotations from my booklet called words of wit and wisdom from the young America's foundation of the Ronald Reagan ranch in Santa Barbara California.

My first quotation will be from Pres. Reagan and one of my favorites is his quote where he says the nine most terrifying words in the English language are: I'm from the government and I'm here to help.

Another famous quotation is as you will ^{remember} government when he says governments view of the economy could be summed up in a few short phrases: if it moves, tax it, if it keeps moving, regulate it, and if it stops moving subsidize it.

Mr. Reagan was a true believer in this great country of ours and the fact that we ^{are} will one nation under God when he said if we ever forget that we are one nation under God than ^{we} ~~when~~ will be a nation gone under. And the last quotation from Ronald Reagan is government is not the solution to our problem, government is the problem.

Milton Friedman a well-known economists said this governments never learn, only people learn.

William F Buckley Junior said this liberals claim to want to give a hearing to other views, but then are shocked and offended to discover that there are other views."

Calvin Coolidge said don't expect to build up the weak by pulling down the strong.

^{Sowell} Thomas ~~say~~ a columnist for many different periodicals ^{said} "this one of the sad signs of our times is that we have demonized those who produce, subsidize those who refuse to produce and canonized those who complain. Jesse Helms once said I want our young people to believe as we did that there is no goal to high to reach if they are willing to work."

Newt Gingrich a believer in the Reagan ^{philosophy} ~~fairies~~ said all free people stand on Reagan's shoulders. His principal policies proved that free markets create wealth, that the rule of law sustains freedom, and that all people everywhere deserve the right to dream, to pursue their dreams and to govern themselves.

I will leave you with full humor as a quote from Oscar Wilde one the my my wife does not like. He said bigamy is having one wife too many and monogamy is the same thing.

I leave you with a point to ponder as we go through life and remembering the history of this great country I also believe that in order to have balance you have to have a little humor in your life. This is Phil Arnott for community comment.
