

~~Aug~~
Sept '17

This is Phil Arnott for community comment on K INS radio well I thought today that we would have a little fun. I received a wonderful email from a good friend of mine on British humor. According to the article these were classified ads that were actually placed in various newspapers around London England.

The first ad was for free puppies, mother is a kennel club registered German Shepherd and father is a super dog able to leap tall fences in a single bound.

The next was joining nudist colony, so must sell washer and dryer. Another, wedding dress for sale, worn once by mistake.

Some would say that the best of all the ads was this, complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica, 45 volumes in excellent condition for sale. No longer needed, got married, wife knows everything.

Some of the teaching categories were really funny. The teacher asked John, why are you doing your math multiplication on the floor and John responded, you told me to do it without using tables.

The next question by the teacher was Donald what is the chemical formula for water and Donald responded h I JKLMno. And the teacher responded what are you talking about the student answered her question by saying will yesterday you said the chemical was H two O.

the next question by the teacher was to Simon. Now Simon tell me frankly, do you say prayers before eating. Simon responded, no sir, I don't have to my mom is a good cook.

In a question about George Washington the student was asked that George Washington not only chop down his father's cherry tree but also admitted it and the student was asked do you know why his father didn't punish him the student answered was because George still had the ax in his hand?

The teacher asked Winnie to name one important thing that they have today that we didn't have 10 years ago and when he responded that has to be me.

The teacher then asked Clyde about his composition on my dog. She said the composition is exactly the same as your brothers, did you copy his? And Clyde responded no sir it's just that it's the same dog.

And one of the last ones that I thought was wonderful is the teacher asked Harold, what you call a person who keeps on talking when people are no longer interested and Harold responded, a teacher.

My friend who sent this to me said to pass it on as soon as possible as due to economic conditions the light at the end of the tunnel will be turned off soon.

I leave you with a point to ponder don't you believe that in every classroom and every day there should be some sort of humor that is passed on from the teacher to the students.

This is Phil Arnott for community comment.